

ABSTRACT

Apparatus and method to reassemble fragments of data packets are provided which minimized unaligned memory accesses. The second and subsequent fragments have an end of fragment (EOF) portion of the payload moved to before a start of fragment (SOF) portion such that only one unaligned memory access per fragment is required.

100255616-122601